Dear Parent(s)/Carer(s)

Re: Geography teaching

Mrs Gibbons has been unwell since the end of September; although there is no definite date for her return, she remains determined to resume teaching as soon as possible. In order to cover for her continued absence and to provide as much stability as possible, the other teachers in the Geography department have reorganised their timetables to allow them to teach her classes. An experienced Geography teacher, Mr Adriano will be starting at St. Olave's on Monday 29th October to teach several Geography classes. The following classes originally taught by Mrs Gibbons will be taught as follows (students will be provided with the details of any changes to their timetables/rooming):

10D will be taught by Mr Adriano

11C will be taught by Miss Beach

11D will be taught by Miss Benham

We recognise and appreciate the concerns both parents and students will have regarding the progress being made by Mrs Gibbons' classes, the Geography department have and will be working to ensure all the necessary content and skills are taught in her absence. We are pleased to have secured the services of an experienced Geography teacher in Mr Adriano. Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions.

Yours sincerely
